Supplies

- Mason jars
- Scissors
- Glue or tape

Directions

1. Cut out the investing and savings jar labels.
2. Glue or tape each label to a mason jar.
3. When your child gets their allowance, help them decide where to put their money by discussing the benefits of each. They can take their money from the savings jar at any time, but the investing jar is for longer term saving. Have them put money in both to demonstrate the differences.
4. Explain the rule of the investing jar: Each month that your child keeps money in the investment jar, you will add a small portion of money on top of that. Each consecutive month where no money has been taken out, the amount you add will increase slightly. If your child takes their money out of the investment jar, the “investments” you add reset.
